

Study Abroad

with the Wisconsin School of Business

The Wisconsin School of Business and its students recognize the value of an international experience. Each year roughly 40% of all Wisconsin BBA graduates study abroad. We offer business-focused study abroad programs at premier business schools and universities across the globe. Review the program locations and start planning your international experience. More information about each program and specific requirements are available online:

International Business majors must choose a study abroad program that aligns with their region of emphasis. Please consult The Guide for a comprehensive list of study abroad programs that satisfy this degree requirement by region. Some of the programs listed in The Guide are administered by International Academic Programs (IAP), the office through which you would apply and receive advising.
